“Brandyn, you have always been such a positive person. Even in the darkest times, you always found a way to make me feel as if everything was ok. You were so full of love with an incredible amount wisdom. You had a smile that would light up the whole universe making it impossible not to smile back. I will never forget the day I met you. I had just left everything behind me, running from a very abusive relationship with absolutely nowhere to go. A mutual friend introduced us because you had an extra bedroom you were willing to rent out. I knew instantly that you and I would have an amazing bond. You invited me into your home and made me feel so comfortable and safe. You will never know just how much you meant to me for so many reasons. From that day in 2015 until the day you left this earth, you taught me so much about myself. I have always looked up to you because I know how far you have come. You managed to overcome some pretty tough hurdles. I am so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. You set goals and smashed them one by one. You were an amazing artist with such a strong mindset and the most beautiful soul. I know that you have made a positive impact on so many people in this world. I really don't think you even knew just how loved you were by everybody that had the pleasure of meeting you. Brandyn, you were one of my best friends and I will never understand the depth of your pain but I know one thing for sure, the amount of people you helped without even realizing it is incredible and I truly believe You are at peace today. Thank you for always being real and showing me an unconditional friendship that I will never forget. I love you Brandyn Skylar Gaskins. Until we meet again, Fly high my friend. I will miss you so much.
