“Cindy was a lovely person, with a smile and laugh that were infectious.

She lived a quiet life serving the Lord and loving her family, and I knew her to open her home for those who needed a friend.

Over the years, our families have leaned on each other and supported one another through some of life's challenges, and I've always been grateful for her kindness.

She was determined, resilient, and loyal, a rare friend.

Her warmth and strength shaped the lives she touched, including mine, and her example of faith and love will continue to inspire her children and all who knew her.
