“ Mom, I am going to miss our prayers and talks and your sweet voice. The one thing you taught me from when I was a little girl was to keep God first place in your heart and everything else would follow. So many people have reached out to me and have said when they were at their lowest you were always there for them. That is the kind of love you had for everyone. I will hold on to what you taught me and I know you are our angel now watching over us. We love you with all of our hearts.

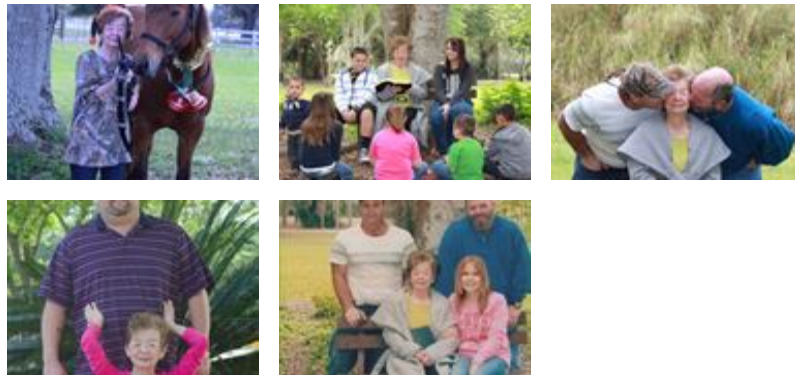

Love from your daughter, Charlotte

“ Daisy was everything a great friend and family member should be. She kept all of us sane even when she wasn't feeling her best. My daddy used to say dynamite comes in small packages and that was certainly true of Daisy. She fought for her friends and family with a fierce stoicism that covered a heart full of love and concern. The world lost a great Christian lady and Heaven gained a great Christian Saint.

43 years with Daisy in my life was just not enough. I love you Daisy and I'll miss you beyond measure.
