“ *Dearest Lisa and Family,
My heart is broken for you all. What a true loss. I am so so sorry. God called her home but she left many beautiful memories. Her love and example will always guide you, and what a beautiful example she was for all. Although you cannot see her she will always be at your side. Your family chain is broken, nothing will be the same, but as God calls each of you one by one, the chain will once again link again. May you find peace in knowing the beautiful place where she is now. I love you all and will be thinking of you during this time.
