“ It may have been the early 1960s when the Zellwood Methodist Youth group gathered at Miss Mary Vincent's home for the usual fun including ping pong on her porch. Becky had brought Paul home from Asbury College to meet her family during the Christmas break. I was young, but smart enough to notice the special smiles Becky and Paul had for one another and I sensed that a wedding was in the works. Decades later when Mr. and Mrs. Paul Juvinal attended an open house hosted by the Zellwood Historical Society, I told Paul that I remembered their loving smiles and he replied, "Yes and I still feel that way today." So dear!

I'm pleased to have met both of their sons at the museum in Zellwood since then and some of their grandkids. A precious legacy!
