“ When we were children our grandparents had a swivel, rocking chair recliner. We could sit in it as long as we didn't rock or swivel in it. Well, almost all of us. Terry would rock and swivel to her hearts content. We would tell our grandfather and he would say.. "don't you worry about what she's doing". She would have this big smile on her face and just laugh and laugh. I'm going to miss you deeply my cousin, but I know there will be a day when we will see each other again. Fly hi on the clouds for now..love robby g

My best friend in the world.(Terry) A good girlfriend is hard to find, impossible to replace and never forgotten.Thank you for your love.Love heals,love holds and love hopes.I will never forget the very first day we met. At the hospital we kicked right off.years and years,and years ago. I can't thank God enough for the opportunity of the two of us praying with each other before God said Terry I am ready to show you my promises,trusted and true.Smile on my sister.I love you. Your forever friend Renee.
